VIRGINIA OR WEST VIRGINIA.

We have taken some pains to find out as near as possible the state of the case in regard to the building of the new railroad into Pocahontas, and from reliable authority we glean the following:

The many things which go to influence the building of new roads, such as the distance, the cost of construction, the topography of the country, and development of the same, were carefully considered and weighed by the board of directors at its recent meeting in New York when they considered the respective advantages and disadvantages of the river route and the route over Alleghany Mountain, and in the minds of the members of the board it was so evenly balanced that the one consideration of the right of way was sufficient to turn the scale.

When the matter had reached this point the Greenbrier River Lumber Co. and Col. McGraw, who were warring against a manifest tendency to cross the mountain, offered to give the right of way up Greenbrier River the whole distance. The Greenbrier River Lumber Co. assumed the cost of the road from Marlinton up, and Col McGraw, a partisan of West Virginia, promised that he would secure from the people the right of way from Whitcomb to Marlinton. His personal interest ceases in the development of the country below Marlinton. It was with the understanding that that the road would be built up the river if the right of way was furnished that the meeting adjourned.

The right of way yet remaining to be purchased in Greenbrier will cost about $7,000, and in Pocahontas $7,000. Prominent men in both counties who have opportunity to realize the importance of speedy action are endeavoring to raise a sum sufficient to buy the right of way from Whitcomb to Marlinton, and they have but a limited time to do it.

The question is one which should not be ignored by the people interested, and, if it is true, that the building of the road depends upon so small a matter, they should not sacrifice their chances for a railroad by letting this opportunity slip through their fingers, but take concerted action at once.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church met in Richmond in May. Receipts for the past year were reported as follows: Foreign Missions, $145,000; Home Missions, $64,000; Education, $17,000; Publication, $42,000.

A committee was appointed to arrange a new hymn book. It is thought that "Laudes Domini," published by the Century Company will be adopted.

An overture relative to the observance of Christmas and Easter was answered in the negative, and Gal. iv. 9, 11; and Col. ii. 16, 21, cited. Also the overture that a minister finding himself out of harmony with the doctrines of his church be allowed to demit his office without censure was answered in the negative. A change made in the form of government was that at the installation of a pastor a ruling elder may deliver the charge to the people.

The form of baptism was changed from "I baptize thee into" to "I baptize thee in the name, etc."

In debate one very conservative member characterized the Y. P. S. C. E. as a "device of the world, the flesh, and the devil."

The "lynching resolution" should be spread through the length and breadth of the land: The General Assembly takes occasion to express its strongest condemnation of the lawless spirit abroad in the land, manifesting itself in many ways, but notably in scenes of mob violence and the taking of human life. In cases of supposed or proven crimes without due process of law, involving the awful danger of inflicting death upon an innocent person, while the real criminal goes free; tending also to cheapen human life, to unsettle the social order and to weaken or destroy that reverence for law and constituted authority which the Scriptures require all to uphold.

We therefore, while expressing our abhorrence of the crimes which have occasioned the disorders referred to, do urge upon all our people and ministers, in all scriptural ways, to do their utmost toward maintaining and cultivating that order and reverence for authority which are enjoined by Word of God.
